Exclusions From This Warranty:

We build our products to stand the test of time so that you can hit the road with confidence. However, there are some things that the Warranty does not cover.

Peragon makes no guarantees or warranties regarding a specific vehicle's ability to support rail-mounted accessories without the risk of damage.

This Warranty does not cover any damage to non-Peragon products transported using Peragon products or used in conjunction with Peragon products.

Peragon does not accept any responsibility in connection with the installation of any of its products by third party installers that are unaffiliated with Peragon.
